Stephen Morgan, Managing Director of Snowbound Expo, stated, "We're psyched to bring this event back to Boston with a new and improved format. We know the show is well known and loved by the New England community and we intend to continue that for years to come. Our organization focuses on delivering sustainable events, making sport accessible to all, no matter age, ability, sexual orientation, or race. We support retail by offering brands the chance to bring their latest products offering show prices and promotions for visitors. Our line-up of speakers includes some of the most prolific and inspirational skiers and snowboarders in the U.S., and we hope this will inspire more people to try a new snow sport or skill. We can't wait to bring the winter and outdoor snowsports community together again."

With the speaker agenda just announced (see: www.snow-boundexpo.com) visitors will be able to see athletes, ski instructors and influential speakers at all times of the day throughout the weekend.

Visitors will see two main stages, including The Seirus Inspiration Stage and The Snow Skills Cabin, sponsored by Boston.com, where an all-star line-up of speakers will share stories from their careers including Olympians, adventurers, and world record breakers. Visitors to the show can meet the VIPs to get selfies and autographs after their talks at the show as well.

Bode Miller, world renowned Olympic American, World Championship gold medallist and two-time overall World Cup champion, will join an impressive line-up of famous faces. They will be set to share their career stories, adventures and skills across two stages. These include the North Face rock climber and American mountaineer Conrad Anker, pioneer of extreme skiing Dan Egan, athlete and storyteller Dani Reyes Acosta, plus Disability Access Strategist and athlete, Vasu Sojitra and more to be confirmed before being added to the full speaker list. Please see https://snowboundexpo.com/speakers/

When asked about joining the show line up, Miller said: "I'm really looking forward to hanging out with the Boston ski show crowd again. No matter where you ski in the U.S., New England skiers stand out. I couldn't have succeeded without the ski culture they established. It's a homecoming for me."

Other interactive features, and free for visitors while enjoying a full day out, include an Indoor Slope to hone skills and technique, a Balance Board area to trial different movements and test agility plus Giant Curling. There will be a Cross Country Experience for visitors to learn where to go in New England, and She-Shed returns with a shopping experience for women's fashion on the mountain. Après Ski is not forgotten, as the Ikon Pass

Alpine Mountain Bar offers a chance for visitors to meet friends for a drink before the season starts.
