

ESCAPE to UNREAL WINTER ADVENTURE in MAMMOTH LAKES

MAMMOTH LAKES, CA – Let us address the Mammoth in the room. With Mammoth Mountain reporting an average of 400 inches of snow per season and simultaneously boasting over 300 days of sunshine, this destination delivers the ultimate winter getaway. Surrounded by boundless acres of breathtaking national forest, encompassing one of the biggest and one of the best skiing and snowboarding resorts in California, Mammoth Lakes is a West Coast wonderland. Superior snow conditions, a giant vertical drop and a monster amount of fresh powder per year prove that California’s premier four-season alpine paradise lives up to its larger-than-life name. The only downside? You cannot capture it in a snow globe and keep it forever.

At an elevation of 11,053 feet and home to the highest lifts in California, the mountain towers over the competition. With 25 lifts, 175 trails, 3,500 skiable acres and an impressive 3,100-foot vertical drop from the summit to the base lodge, you are guaranteed thrills and excitement at every turn. Whether this is your first trip or you make the pilgrimage every year, this mountain always offers something new and unique. No wonder it is a bucket-list destination for any skier or snowboarder countrywide. The fun does not stop at the slopes. Mammoth Lakes has over 3 million acres of wide-open wilderness to explore. So slip on some snowshoes and trek up to Minaret Vista for unreal views of Mammoth Lakes’ signature mountain skyline. Glide across more than 140 miles of cross-country trails. Hold on tight while tubing at Woolly’s Tube Park, or skate around the new Olympic-sized LA Kings Ice indoor rink. Whatever you are into, a wide range of winter recreation ensures that there is enough fun for everyone.

Mammoth Lakes is so amazing that it is nearly unbelievable. Where else can you barrel down a powder-soft mountain taking in views of glimmering crystalline lakes while the California sun beams through an azure sky? Where else can you soak in the warm hues of a classic California sunset while breathing in crisp mountain air and savoring the warmth of a fire by your feet after a long, rewarding day on the slopes?

MAMMOTH LAKES, CA - While cruising down one of the many powder filled trails of Mammoth Mountain, a skier gets their exhilaration fix on one of the many great days the region has to offer. BE AWARE, SKI WITH CARE, KNOW THE CODE

Ski resorts can be enjoyed in many ways. At the areas you may see people using alpine, snowboard, telemark, cross country and other specialized ski equipment, such as that used by disabled or other skiers.

Observe the code listed below and share with other skiers the responsibility for a great skiing experience.

1. Always stay in control.
2. People ahead of you have the right of way.
3. Stop in a safe place for you and others.
4. Whenever starting downhill or merging, look uphill and yield.
5. Use devices to help prevent runaway equipment.
6. Observe signs and warnings, and keep off closed trails.
7. Know how to use the lifts safely.

KNOW THE CODE, IT’S YOUR RESPONSIBILITY.â

MORE PODCAST EPISODES ADDED at: www.AlwaysUpright.com

When you are skiing or snowboarding, it is best to be always upright. That is one of the reasons why SKIER NEWS decided, when we launched our podcasts, to name our newly minted podcast episodes just that. You can find the episodes online at www.AlwaysUpright.com. The series has interviews with ski industry insiders as well as legends in music, entertainment and sports. Many episodes were recorded at NBC’s American Century Championship in Lake Tahoe in July by Publishers Lorie and Dave Leonardi who are working media at the event.

The podcast home page is divided into three landing pages. They are Western Ski News; Eastern Ski News and Sports and Entertainment. Larry the Cable Guy gets it done in his second Entertainment based podcast as well as famed comedian Nate Bargatze, both are funny and informative. Also this year country star Jake Owen joined along with Miles Teller from Top Gun Maverick, and famous MLB and NFL broadcaster Joe Buck joined with great interview.

Also interviewed was the 2008 Phillies’ World Series Champ Jimmy Rollins. Jay DeMarcus returned with news of his stellar group, Rascal Flatts, reuniting. In more entertainment news Jason Scheff, former lead singer with Chicago, discusses his new project “Lead Singers of Classic Rock.” Many hospitality and ski industry marketers and PR spokespersons are interviewed as well and comprise many of the podcasts. More episodes will be added and will continue throughout the ski season.

SKI RESORTS MARK BIG ANNIVERSARIES

This winter season at least three ski areas are marking major milestones in their existence.

In the Poconos of Pennsylvania, Shawnee Mountain is celebrating its 25th Anniversary with fun events planned all year long. See: www.shawneemt.com for all the details.

Jackson Hole, in Wyoming, is joyous about their 60 years of building a great ski resort. From their humble beginning in 1964, they now are a major resort with seven high-speed quads, two gondolas and their world famous tram that rises 4,139 vertical feet from their base. Look for their many events and more at: www.jacksonhole.com

Alta Ski Area, located in Little Cotton Canyon in Utah, celebrates their 88th year of operation. Why the 88th year? It highlights the super powder days they receive and the abundance of “Powder 8” competitions they have had. Look for those events and more at: www.alta.com

RIDE ANOTHER DAY and SNOW ANGEL FOUNDATION

Last November we met Chauncy and Kelli Johnson at the Boston Snowbound Expo. You may not know their names, but you probably have seen their posters at your favorite resort. The posters show an empty snow angel and read “She was 5. You were going 50.”

On Christmas Eve, 2010 a snowboarder riding at approximately 50 mph collided with Kelli and 5-year-old daughter, Elise. The collision resulted in the death of Elise and the snowboarder. Kelli sustained life altering injuries including a severe Traumatic Brain Injury and other injuries that she lives with to this day.

In 2016, Chauncy partnered with the National Ski Areas Association to promote ski collision awareness. The Snow Angel Foundation was formed in 2023 in order to increase safety education and awareness and promote the benefits of skiing and snowboarding.

The inaugural issue was published November, 1988, in the ski industry, that was pre-historic eons ago.

SKIER NEWS gratefully acknowledges the assistance of all of the fine organizations associated with skiing and we are by concept dedicated to promote skiing. We consider the term “skiing” to be the all-comprehensive, generic term for all downhill snowsports.

Appreciation is hereby, once again, proclaimed to Mark Bunzel, now of Washington state. His original technical and computer suggestions, in 1988, helped make the first edition possible. Now he publishes Fine Edge boating books in the Pacific Northwest.

One more thing, we do not use a period to end a sentence when that sentence ends with a web URL address. Some knuckleheads might think that the period is part of the web address! Not you, of course, but the guy who picked up the copy just before you or maybe the other guy also at the rack, but don’t stare. But just in case we forgot to eliminate one, you would know better than to use the period when typing the URL. Thanks. Why are you still reading this fine print?
